Sheep Wet blue

About Zirsam

Zirsam is a professional manufacturer and direct supplier of high-quality sheep leather. With years of hands-on experience, we are masters of both Salambour (lightly processed) and Wet Blue (chrome-tanned) production — from raw selection to final grade.

The background of the slide is a close-up photograph of white, wrinkled fabric, likely a towel or sheet, showing texture and folds. A large, semi-transparent white rectangular box is centered on the slide, containing the title and a descriptive paragraph.

Our Advanced Production Process

Precision Quality Control

Our quality assurance team diligently oversees each stage, from raw material to final grading

Material Detail & Integrity

Every piece of Zirsam sheep wet blue is subject to rigorous inspection, ensuring consistent integrity, superior strength, and meticulous attention to detail—setting the industry standard.

A close-up photograph of a grey, textured fabric, possibly leather or a high-quality synthetic material, draped and folded to show its natural grain and softness. The lighting is soft, highlighting the subtle variations in the material's texture.

Unprocessed Quality. Superior Feel.

Our meticulous attention ensures that every hide retains its inherent quality — fullness, softness, and an exceptional hand.

Premium Sheep Salambour

Less processed than wet blue. Exceptional softness and natural feel. Perfect for tanneries seeking consistent semi-processed stock.

Real Value, Fair Price

We believe in fairness. You will never overpay for the grade you receive.
